

“Local Pubs” Prenzlauer Zeitung 11/29/1999

Rick Deman played in the Irish Pub, a multi-talent from the USA. He is a guitarist, singer and songwriter. He has lived in Berlin (on and off) since 1991. Together with bassist Christian Krauss and drummer Ralph Steinmetz they played rock cover songs from the last 20 years.

With his expressive voice and excellent guitar playing he managed to bring the audience with him. But too bad for the rock fan that he only played cover songs and performed none of his originals. Yet he wants to return and bring his own songs.io
