

Rick Derman and The Cry on Friday in the Irish Pub

Parchim – The singer, song writer and guitarist Rick Derman is a multi talent. His cover versions range from the hits of the 50s up until today's. His cover program includes blues, rock, pop and r&b, good for dancing and rousing.

His own songs are mainstream with strong melodic vocals and catchy guitar solos. Before he came to Germany, he already had a record deal in L.A. and toured with his record around the States and England. Later he worked as producer and song writer for "Yellow Brick Road" and played together with Rick Derringer and members of the Joe Cocker-Band, with whom he had the occasion to do some recordings.

For this gig, his band "The Cry" actually consisted of members from the "Glassband", which is well known in Berlin and the surrounding area for about five years. Singer and guitarist Heinz Glass has played with the soul legend Percy Sledge and participated in "Monocle" as guest guitarist. In cooperation with Rick Derman, together with Jamie Scott and Peter Jacob, the band was ready for the challenge.

The result was a promising mix of German-American rock music.
