

Country Blues Suits Them

Rick Derman made a guest appearance with his band in Bullengäschen.

A tempo change now and again was well performed during the concert from Rick Derman (guitar/vocals), Tom Jordan (bass/vocals) and Ralph Steinmetz (drums). The 3 musicians joined forces using a steady country-blues tempo with which many of the covered hits were played.

One highlight was certainly Tom Jordan`s vocals. The skinny bassist sang like a black blues singer in his best years: deep, raw and with excellent pitch. He performed classics from Chris Rea, Freddie King, Wilson Pickett and Ben E. King.

Those were some of the highlights of a well attended concert along with Rick Derman`s guitar solo on Ain`t No Sunshine. The American came to Germany 5 years ago and put this trio together with the help of Ralph Steinmetz who introduced Rick and Tom to each other.

Rick is now trying to bring his first Berlin CD to the marketplace. "It will be rock n roll songs. I come from rock" he said.
